SPEAKER PROFILE

Dr. Christopher Wilson

ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN HISTORIAN
RINGLING COLLEGE OF ART + DESIGN

Dr. Christopher S. Wilson is an Architecture and Design Historian at Ringling College of Art + Design in Sarasota, Florida, USA. He is also the “Scholar-in Residence” of the non-profit Architecture Sarasota, a recent merger of the Sarasota Architectural Foundation and the Center for Architecture Sarasota.

Wilson holds a BArch from Temple University, Philadelphia, an MA from The Architectural Association, London, and a PhD from Middle East Technical University, Ankara, Turkey. Before entering the world of academia, Wilson worked as an architect in Philadelphia, Berlin, and London, and is a registered architect in the UK.

Most recently, Wilson has written the Sarasota chapter in a monograph on the life and work of Sarasota School architect Victor Lundy, published by Princeton Architectural Press (2018). A book entitled “Re-Framing Berlin: Architecture, Memory-Making and Film Locations” is currently being prepared for publication by Intellect Books (UK), expected in early 2023.

Dr. Wilson will be moderating the Sarasota Design Conference Panel titled: Connect with the Sarasota School of Architecture
